REPORT

MY CONSTITUTION MY PRIDE

Today on 11TH of November, 2023 special lecture on Environmental laws under the theme My Constitution My Pride was organised by the Department of Environmental Science. The resource person of the programme was Prof. Suhail Abdullah Malik, Assistant Professor in the Department of Environmental Science-GDC Sopore. The programme was conducted under the patronage of worthy College Principal Prof (Dr. Salma Ahad).

At the outset, the resource person welcomed all the students for attending the lecture. Following this he deliberated on the diverse aspects of the Environmental laws. Students were made aware about the various articles related to the environmental protection as enshrined in the constitution of India like article 21, 48a, 51a(g). Afterwards he briefed the students about the history of environmental laws in India and how the Government of India has been proactive in making various laws from time to time for the protection of the environment and bio- diversity. The students were also made aware about the various provisions of different acts like Wildlife Protection act of 1972, Water Act of 1974, Air Act of 1981, Environmental Protection Act of 1986, Forest Rights Act of 2006 and National Green Tribunal act of 2010. In addition to this the resource person also discussed about India's prominent role and commitment at the global level in combating climate change.

The Students keenly listened to the lecture, took note of important key points and raised questions which were responded by the resource person in a prudent manner. Toward the conclusion of the programme the resource person expressed gratitude towards College Principal, students and the technical staff for making the event possible.
